Meeting called to (dis)order at 2:20 pm.

Official Business:

Minutes of the previous meeting approved.

Treasurer's report: Our bank will be merging with Univest. Recently the bank has been trying to hit us with a service charge (on our non-service charge account). Marcy fixed it last month – they said it was 'a mistake' but they did it again this month. She will get after them again. She will also ask if the merger will result in continued monthly fees. Our present balance is $273.95 plus $40, for recent two year membership renewal plus a donation, from Heidi.

Kathy: a list of past officers, with addresses, has been sent to the ICG. Updated 2015-16 info should be put up on our web site under 'Pups Biz'. We were missing e-addresses for Lin, Heidi, Ricky, Denice, and Ron & Jeannette (the later three are among our founding members and are permanent Pups). Byron & Tina were able to provide e-addresses for Heidi and Lin, and Byron said he thought he had a couple of the others at home.

A motion was made, and passed, that meeting notices will, effective with the last notice in 2016, be subsequently sent by e-mail.

Recent and upcoming shows, exhibits, etc.:

Kathy said that there will be a (Steampunk theme) one-month-only show by Cirque de Soleil in the NYC area, starting 9/29, 'Kurios.'

Byron & Tina went to the MFA-Boston exhibit of #TechStyle. They particularly mentioned the 3-D scan custom clothing by digital printer system, and the LED-covered gown with programmed light patterns. They will be going to the costume exhibit at the Met on Monday.

Mike mentioned an item on his FB page, about a mirror and platform system that scans a body and takes measurements. He also said that a vintage hat factory in Manhattan (Makins hats, 212 W 35th St.) is selling vintage hat supplies.

Tina mentioned the Edith Head movie costume exhibit in Lancaster, OH, which is running in July and August at the Decorative Arts Center there. Byron & she plan to visit on their way to WorldCon in August.

Show & Tell:

Tina & Byron brought along the books they had acquired at the Kent State Museum, as well as a couple they had picked up in Stratford, ON.

Kathy showed us the necklace and earrings that she had made for CC for her fairy costume, as well as a couple of other jewelry pieces she made. She also showed us a camera lens hood made by Diane of black felt, which is intended to reduce glare/reflections when photographing through glass. It was suggested that this would be a good workshop project at a future meeting.

Recent and Upcoming Cons:

Costume-Con 34: It was agreed (by those of us who attended) that it was a pretty good con, competently run, with good attendance. There were a couple of minor flaws. There was no pocket program; the schedule was only listed in the (large format) program book, plus a couple of wall signs. Byron said that they had good directional signs. There was some controversy about the SF judging format, which used a point system and took 'forever' backstage. Tina's impression, from the repair table location, was that the panel of judges wanted to preview/workmanship judge all of the costumes, not just those who wanted workmanship judging. It's possible that the MD may have been bringing the format from cosplay, in which case we may see this again in parts of the country that are not familiar with 'traditional' CC masquerades. There was a good con suite, but some sponsors were not well mentioned during their sponsored period.

Restaurants: Some were located too far away. There was no restaurant guide. The hotel restaurant had numerous deficiencies. Hotel: Housekeeping wasn't very good; Byron & Tina had to call for room makeup at 4 in the afternoon, and the housekeeping person said, "You had the do-not-disturb sign up on your door." (It had been taken off by 9:30 am.)

Balticon: The move downtown and GRR Martin as GoH swamped the hotel. Martin was visible and accessible during the con. There was considerable congestion in the halls and elevators, and poor space usage. The con situated the space for GRRM's autographing right next to the elevator lobby (the ONLY elevator bank in the hotel). There was a fairly good dealers room.

Masquerade: the masquerade was good – the ballroom was large, well laid out, and had decent width aisles. We gave a Spazzy to entry 'Duck Vader and Queen Quack-ma-dala' – Byron brought a certificate and award ribbon along, and was able to present them. There were problems with the private security hired by the hotel; they were ogling and harassing the female contestants.

Rich and Stephanie went to the Arisia Relaxacon instead of Balticon. They mentioned that Shore Leave is this weekend, at the Hunt Valley. Special guest stars for the 50th anniversary.

Connecticon is also this weekend and has a great guest list, including John Rhys-Davies, Michael Dorn, and Walter Koenig. Susan said that so many cons are looking for (media) guests that it is driving up the rates.

Byron mentioned to Susan that Faith signed up as a Pup at the last meeting, and will need a folder on our web page.

Mike mentioned the Heroes & Villains FanFest at the Meadowland, coming up in October. He said that there are some comp memberships, but that one has to pay for everything once inside.

WorldCon (MidAmeriCon II), 8/17-21: Byron & Tina will be driving to Kansas City. Byron is scheduled for four panels, and Tina for one. They've been having a delightful time reading the stories for the Retro Hugos.

Upcoming Meetings:

August 27 at Diane's, Kendall Park (Byron & Tina will be unable to attend – still on the way back from KC. Someone else will need to take minutes.)

November 5, also at Diane's

December 3, to be hosted by Byron & Tina at the Embassy Suites in Parsippany

Upcoming workshops: A workshop on crocheting was suggested. Also, perhaps the camera lens hood at the 8/27 meeting.

The meeting was adjourned at 4:22.
